SPAN OF LIFE LENGTHENED

Six Years Added Since 1880 Says an Eminent Authority.

CONSUMPTION'S COST

Man Who Said It Was More Than a Billion Dollars a Year Prepared an Exhaustive Report.

STUDY BY POLITICAL ECONOMIST

Washington, Oct. 12.—Prof. Irvin Fisher, the eminent political economist of Yale university, who in one of his papers before the recent international tuberculosis congress in Washington declared that consumption costs the people of the United States more than a billion dollars a year, is preparing an exhaustive report for the National Conservation commission, which will contain not only these figures but similar data on the economic loss to the country from all other preventable disease.

Dr. Fisher is professor of political economy at Yale university and chairman of the "committee of one hundred," of which the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which has for a long time been carrying on propaganda for the increase of national health through the elimination of preventable disease. This committee of one hundred is composed of physicians and men engaged in active sociological work in every part of the country, and the results of their investigations and experiences are all available to Dr. Fisher, so that his report ought to be the most thorough-going and complete summary of the situation ever made.

At the tuberculosis congress, Professor Fisher declared that 138,000 persons die of consumption every year. The cost of medical attendance and the loss of earnings before death average at least $2,400, he said, while if to this is added the money that might have been earned with health, the total loss in each case is about $8,000. He pointed out, also, that the disease usually attacks young men and women just at the time when they are beginning to earn money and cuts off their earning power for about three years, on an average, before they die.

This subject of the economic value to the country of a general raising of the average health came up in the governors' conference at the white house in May. Dr. George M. Kober in his speech on the "Conservation of Life and Health by Improved Water Supply" at the conference presented figures which showed that the decrease in the "vital assets" of the country through typhoid fever in a single year is more than $350,000,000. Typhoid is spread by polluted water largely so that the death rate from this disease can be directly reduced by the purification of city drinking water.

Dr. Kober quoted statistics to show that the increased value of the water to the city of Albany, where the typhoid fever rate was reduced from 104 in 100,000 to 26 by an efficient filtration plant, amounts to $475,000 a year, of which $350,000 may be considered a real increase to the vital assets of the city. Census bureau figures show that the average annual death rate from typhoid in cities with contaminated water supplies was reduced from 69.4 for 100,000 to 19.8 by the substitution of pure supplies.

Dr. Kober cited estimates showing that the average length of human life in the sixteenth century was between 18 and 20 years, and that at the close of the eighteenth century it was a little more than 30, while today it is between 38 and 40—indeed, the span of life since 1880 has been lengthened about six years.

Engine Derailed.

While shifting about the yard near the passenger depot Tuesday morning the Pennsylvania yard engine was derailed Monday the yard crew had put in some new heavy rails opposite the tower and as the engine was passing over the switch at that point the flange of the engine wheels climbed the sharp edges of the new rail, throwing the tender on one track and the engine on another. This caused several lengths of rails to be torn up and the track was shoved out of place for a short distance. After several hours work the engine was replaced on the rails.

LAST OF THE FAIR.

The Big Centre County Event Was a Success and is now Over.

WEDNESDAY

The first big day of the fair opened under the most suspicious circumstances and the fair weather induced many thousands to attend on the opening day. The management evidently have stand in with the weather man as the day was an ideal one and all that could be expected.

Time and space would not permit us to enumerate all the numerous and nicely placed exhibits at the Fair and they had to be seen to be appreciated While these exhibits are similar from year to year, one never tires of seeing the work that can be done by others and the rivalry has led many to redouble their efforts to produce some thing that will take first prize at these fairs. Those who do not care for the races spent the day looking over the exhibits and admiring the artfulness of those who are skilled in various crafts, cookery, produce, etc. The judging of the exhibits occupied the time of the judges until late Wednesday afternoon.

There are plenty of amusements, both free and admission for all. The Coleville band gave continuous concerts during the afternoon and at the same time the races and free amusements were in progress so that there was not one dull moment for any one present. The free shows are of a very high class and the association chose well in selecting them for the entertainment of the people.

However, a very large percentage of the people were interested in the races which proved to be very exciting. The following are the results:

FIRST RACE.

2.15 Trot and Pace—Purse $250

Sally Derby, Irvin Gray,	4	6	6	3
Billy C., J C Counsman	1	3	4	4
Jennie Direct, H M Carlisle	3	2	2	5
Minnie Tillman, R Seager	2	1	1	1
Ward V, Thomas Rank	6	5	3	2
Mary Edwards, Dr. L G Marshall	5	4	5	6

Time—2.15½, 2.18, 2.18¼, 2.16

SECOND RACE

2.25 Trot and Pace—Purse $300

Elkline, W V Larimer	3	4	4
King Time, Ross Sheffer
Tony Chimes, Frank Nichols	1	1	1
Maud Fausta, Philip Zuber	2	3	2
Stitson, M C McClain	4	2	3

Time—2.27¼, 2.23¼, 2.23¼

W. A. Alexander, starter.

The pony race by the Bellefonte child owners proved to be very interesting. There were four entries for the pony honors, as follows: Collins Shoemaker, Philip Shoemaker, Helen Beezer and Joseph Hazel. It was quite amusing to see the pretty little animals come waddling down the one-eight mile course. The first prize of $10 was won by Collins Shoemeker and the second prize of $5 was won by Philip Shoemaker. Miss Beezer came in third and Joseph Hazel fourth.

The hurdle race was postponed on account of the unavoidable absence of the horsemen and their horses.

The balloon ascension passed off successfully, alighted in a vacant lot on the side of Nittany mountain a short distance from the grounds.

THURSDAY

Thursday was a record breaking day for attendance at the big Centre County Fair. Every train arriving in Bellefonte was crowed with people coming to spend the day with us. By one o'clock the great mass of people had assembled for the afternoon races and amusements and various estimates were made as to the number of people on the grounds. Those who had not been present the day previous of course spent much time in looking over the splendid array of exhibits. The racing was more exciting than on the previous day. Following are the results:

FIRST RACE

2.18 trot and pace—purse $250

Bert Anderson	1	1	2	4	1
Sandy Hornet	2	2	1	2	4
Phieta Medium	3	5	3	1	5
Omega Elder	4	3	4	3	2
Marjoretta	5	4	5	5	3

Time—2.19½, 2.20¼, 2.20, 2.21¼, 2.22¼.

SECOND RACE.

2.27½ trot and pace—purse $200

J B	1	1	1
Tony Chimes	2	2	2
Stitson	4	3	3
J B S	3	4	4

Time—2.22, 2.23½, 2.22¼

In the fourth heat of the first race Irvin Gray figured in an accident that came very near putting him out of the races for the balance of the fair. While coming around the lower end of the track on the second round another cart interfered with his with the result that Mr. Gray was thrown off alighting upon his head. His face was cut and his hip injured. As soon as his injuries were dressed he entered the fifth heat and coming

DESTRUCTION FOREST FIRES

Situation Has Again Become Dangerous in Some Counties

MEN FIGHTING FLAMES

In Clearfield and Elk Counties Much Damage Has Been Done—Woods Burning Twice in Some Places

VALUABLE PROPERTY THREATENED

The fire situation east of DuBois on the Low grade is now regarded as more critical than it has been at any time yet. At Dents Run, the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company has a desperate fight on hand to keep the flames out of the standing timber and slashings from whence saw logs have not yet been all removed. The force of workmen at the scene has been found inadequate and Wednesday was re-inforced by a big gang from the company's operation on Mix Run.

At some places the woods are burning for the second time this season. The first fire, in cases of this kind, ran through hurriedly, igniting only the lighter stuff. During the past couple of weeks the ground became covered with leaves and these the flames are licking up. This can only happen where there are old logs and stumps and little underbrush beneath the green trees.

At Ridgway the fire department was called out to control a woods blaze that was bearing down on Cardott street.

In Spring Creek township, Elk county, there were fires Tuesday night and they thought they had them under control. In the morning word was sent to DuBois from Hallton to the men attending court to return home and help fight fire. Word was received at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening that the flames got beyond control and were threatened Hallton. They had entered the slashing where Hall, Gardner & Company have 5,000,000 feet of cut timber and this is threatened. There was then no fear for the mill. All the available men were out and the Elk Tanning company had all of their men out. Up to midnight no further word was received regarding the fires, but instructions were left to prepare to leave Ridgway with a special train load of men in case they were needed.

Never before in the history of these counties has the fires been so great and caused so much damage. Railroad men say that it is impossible to see 50 feet ahead. Fires are also reported to be be burning around State camp and at the head of Paddy's run.

Arrested for Threats.

Peter Meitzler, proprietor of the Riverside hotel at Lock Haven was arrested at 11:30 o'clock Thursday night, charged with making threats against the life of George A. Brown. Mr. Brown is executor of the estate of Mrs. Eva Meitzler and guardian of Miss Edna Dornblaser, a granddaughter to whom the estate was willed. Since last spring Mr. Meitzler has made threats against Mr. Brown and even challenged him to a duel. Thursday an execution was issued against him for the resetting of the curb on Jay street and when Mr. Brown learned that the landlord was seeking him be made information against Meitzler before Alderman Smith and a warrant was taken out for Meitzler's arrest.

The accused landlord was given a hearing Friday afternoon. Very damaging testimony against the prisoner was given and he was placed under $2000 bail. He stated he did not want bail and of course was taken back to jail to await trial at the next term of court.

Saw Mill Burned.

Saturday morning about one o'clock the Dale saw mill at Glen Harris was burned to the ground. About 700 feet of lumber and 1000 feet of logs were burned with the mill. All the machinery was so badly damaged that it will be unfit for use. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The burning of the mill is quite a loss to the owners and will greatly delay the work of getting out their orders. The mill will be rebuilt.

DR. GEORGE A. FAIRLAMB

Respected Bellefonte Physician Passed Away at the Bush House Monday Morning.

Dr. George A. Fairlamb, one of Bellefonte's oldest and most highly esteemed medical practioners passed away at his apartments at the Bush house Monday morning at one o'clock, his death being due to the infirmities of old age.

George Ashbridge Fairlamb was born in Chester county June 24, 1826, being aged over 82 years at the time of his demise. His ancestors both in the paternal and maternal lines were early English settlers and members of the Society of Friends. His father was George A. Fairlamb, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and a successful physician at Downingtown, Pa. His mother was Anetta Miller, a descendent of a well known family, the first in line coming from Cornwall, England, in 1702. Her father, Joseph John Miller, a merchant in Philadelphia, died in Lyons, France, while collecting a claim from the French government for gunpowder furnished to Napoleon Bonaparte.

When a lad ten years of age Dr. Fairlamb came to Bellefonte to reside with his aunt Lydia Valentine, wife of Bond Valentine, and parents of the late Robert Valentine, in which family he was raised as a son. After completing a course in the Bellefonte Academy he entered the University of Pennsylvania, and in 1848 received his degree in medicine from that institution. He returned to Bellefonte to engage in practice, but at the opening of the Civil war his patriotic spirit led him to enlist in defense of the flag. He raised Company H, 148 P. V. I., and entering as captain was promoted later to the rank of major, and after the battle of the Wilderness became a lieutenant colonel. He was wounded at the battle of Chancellorsville and twice at Spottsylvania in the charge made early in the morning of the 12th by the Second Corps when he was the first man to rush into the fight at the "Bloody Angle", his right elbow being shattered by a ball, necessitating a resection of the joint.

He was taken captive and spent the summer of 1864 amid the horrors of Libby prison. He was paroled September 12, 1864, at Annapolis, Md., and on February 1865 was discharged from service on a surgeon's certificate of disability from wounds received in battle.

After the war was over Col. Fairlamb was surgeon at the Lazaretto below Philadelphia for two years, being appointed by Gov. Curtin. He was a member of Gregg Post, No. 95 of Bellefonte and also of the Loyal Legion. During the years of his residence and practice in Bellefonte he won the friendship and esteem of everyone.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Dr. George F. Harris.

McGinnis—Schofield.

A quiet wedding which was a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties was solemnized in Pittsburg on Thursday, October 1st, when Miss Nancy J. Schofield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield, of Bellefonte, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mathew A. McGinnis, the popular clerk of the New Indiana House, at Indiana, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, of Pittsburg. Upon the arrival of the happy couple in Indiana the Burgess, J. A. Crossman, announced through a megaphone the arrival of the bride and groom, whereupon with becoming ceremony they were escorted to the hotel in the 'bus.'

The bride is an accomplished young lady who enjoys the highest regard of a large circle of acquaintances in Bellefonte and throughout the county. The groom is a popular young man of Indiana, formerly of Pottsville, and enjoys a wide acquaintance in that hustling community. The young people will make their future home in Indiana, where the many friends of the groom unite with those of the bride in Bellefonte in extending heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

More Trackage Needed.

Trainmen running on the P. & E. division declare that there is not sufficient trackage along the line to meet the demands of the heavy freight traffic, not a day passes but what the Renovo sidings and other points are greatly congested. Old freight conductors and engineers state that the laying of at least one more track in the Renovo yard would avoid much of the trouble now encountered. It is also said that the building of another track at Lock Haven is among the early probabilities.

CUT TO PIECES BY A TRAIN

Wm. Shearer Fell Under the Wheels in the Avis Yards

JOLTED FROM THE CAR

Whole Train of Cars Passed Over the Unfortunate N. Y. C. Brakeman and His Head was Crushed

BURIAL WAS MADE AT MILL HALL.

William J. Shearer, a well-known New York Central brakeman, was killed near the Avis roundhouse about 10:15 o'clock Monday night and his body terribly mangled, a whole train of cars passing over him. The unfortunate man was brakeman on freight No. 55 which was just returning from its regular run. As the train came into the Avis yards Shearer ran ahead, threw the switch and signaled the engineer to come ahead. It was his duty to uncouple the engine and when he failed to do this after the train had run onto the switch the crew became alarmed and started in search of him. They found his mangled body lying in the rear of the train. It is supposed that after he signaled the engineer Shearer started to cross the track for the purpose of stepping on the engine from the other side, and was struck. His head was crushed and mangled beyond all recognition. An undertaker was called and took charge of the body.

Mr. Shearer was thirty-eight years of age and is survived by a widow. His home was on railroad street. The body will be taken to Mill Hall, where his parents reside, for burial. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and also of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Mrs. Catherine J. Humes

Mrs. Catherine J. Humes, who died at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gilmour, on Thursday last, in the 81st year of her age, was the wife of the late William H. Humes. Her children were Mrs. Caroline H. Gilmour, Mrs. Rachel B. Allison, Mrs. Elmira Hoover, Miss Elizabeth Humes of Bellefonte, Mrs. Maria J. Roberts of Pasadena, Cal., Edward C. Humes, Jr. of Logan, W. Va., and T. Irvin Humes, of Latrobe, Pa., all living with the exception of Mrs. Elmira Hoover and Miss Elizabeth Humes, who departed this life a number of years ago. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from her late residence, services at the house and cemetery conducted by Dr. Platts. The pall bearers were, Messrs. Charles E. Gilmour, Archibald Allison, Wm. P. Humes, of Bellefonte, Hamilton B. Humes of Jersey Shore, T. Irvin Humes of Latrobe and Charles Rockefeller of Sunbury. The interment was made in the Union cemetery. Mrs Humes was a consistant member of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, an active and earnest worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, ever ready to assist in every good work for the benfit of the community, devoted to her friends, and most kind and sympathetic to the poor and needy.

State Convention.

Shamokin is preparing to entertain the greatest gathering of Sunday school workers ever held within the boarders of the state. Like Jerusalem of old Shamokin will be the Mecca to which thousands of Sunday school teachers, superintendents and pastors will journey Oct. 14, 15, and 16. The occasion will be the forty-fourth annual convention of the state Sabbath school association.

Pennsylvania is the greatest Sunday school state in the Union. The latest statistics show there are 11,065 schools with an enrollment of over 1,500,000 officers, teachers and pupils. The program is an unusually attractive one. Prof. E. O. Excell, of Chicago, with a large chorus organized for the occasion, will lead the singing. Addresses from Hon. John Wanamaker, Mr. H. J. Heinz, Chas. Steizle, Hon. Wm. Berry, Dr. James, Mr. Gray and others are scheduled.

A feature of the convention will be the house visitation of Shamokin. The teachers training alumni association, now numbering over six thousand, will hold its annual banquet at this time.

AERONAUTIC EXPERIENCES.

Professor Casselle Enjoys the Profession Which he Has Chosen.

A representative of this paper had a very pleasant interview with Prof. Jacob Casselle, the aeronaut who made the balloon ascensions and parachute drops at the fair last week, before his departure from town Saturday night. It is the general supposition that the professor is an Italian, but such is not the case and he is as much American as a great many of us. Prof. Casselle's father was a Pennsylvania German and his mother was a Canadian of German decent, the professor having been born in this state. It is natural for one to wonder what sensation an aernaut experiences when he ascends so far above mother earth and this was one of the first questions we ask him. He replied that there was no sensation about it and he did not think any more of making a balloon ascension than we would of coming to work in our office.

Prof. Casselle has been following this for the past seven years and has been quite successful in his work. Not until last season did he meet with any accident at all and he did not consider that worth mentioning. While making two ascensions daily at Electric Park, Baltimore, one in the afternoon and one at night, he had one mishap that caused a shudder to run through his spectators. On this occasion while making the ascent his parachute caught fire from a spark from the balloon, but hearing the cries of the crowd below thought they were cheering him, and not until after he had "cut loose" did he realize that a large hole had been borned in the parachute. He however managed to reach the earth with only a little shaking up, while the crows had expected to find him crushed. On one other occasion he caught in some telegraph wires but was not injured.

Professor Casselle stated that the reason why some parachutes fail to open is that the ropes are crossed and twisted or not properly arranged. All this he looks after himself and the ascension is not made unless everything is just as it should be, and then he has no more fear of accident than a man walking along the street. Previous to his taking up this work he was an acrobat and thus was prepared for the acrobatic feats he performs while ascending with the balloon. When asked what his estimate was of the distance he dropped before the parachute opened, he replied that it was scarcely more than a hundred feet. He explained further that from the top of the balloon to his feet when he was hanging on the trapeze was 100 feet, and by this the distance could be estimated. When he cuts loose everybody is watching him as he makes a sudden start and the distance seems to increase so fast, and they do not notice that the balloon takes a quick upward shot when released of his weight, thus causing the distance between him and the balloon to increase so rapidly. He never fears injury when making the descent. If there are trees he knows that he cannot fall if once it gets in the branches and if he alights in a clear place it is as easy as dismounting from a horse. His long experience has taught him a great many things about finding a soft place.

During the winter season when he does not follow aeronautics he finds employments as an acrobat in a circus.

He left Bellefonte Saturday night for Pennington Gap, Va., where he has an engagement for this week. The fair association were pleased with the two ascensions he made here and have already spoken to him about an engagement next year.

Williams—Fisher.

On Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock a pretty home wedding was celebrated at the bride's home in Unionville when Abednego Williams of Martha was united in marriage to Miss Nannie Fisher. Rev. A. C. Lathrop officiated and the Friend's ceremony was used. About fifty persons were present to witness the marriage.

Mr. Williams is a highly respected and prosperous farmer of Martha. The bride is a well known and accomplished lady and active worker in the Friend's church. She is also prominently identified with Christian Endeavor and Sunday School work throughout the county, having for a number of years been secretary of the County Endeavor union.

An elaborate wedding dinner was served and the couple left on the noon train for Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other places.

Many valuable and useful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Williams who have the best wishes of their many friends.

HUNTINGDON PRESBYTERY

Sessions Were Held in the New Church at Alexandria.

A LARGE ATTEDANCE

Committees Were Appointed and Various Reports Made and Acted Upon. Officers Elected

DR. PLATTS MADE A STRONG PLEA.

The presbytery of Huntingdon me at Alexandria on Monday evening in the new and beautiful building of which Rev, William E. Stewart is pastor. The minds of the members of the presbytery were prepared for the popular service of the evening by the thoughtful hospitality of the pastor and people. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. C. E. Hills, D. D., the retiring moderator, the Rev. C. M. Campbell. the Rev. Samuel Barber and the Rev. Harry M. Campbell assisting in the service of the evening.

After the sermon an offering for presbyterial missions was received. Presbytery was then constituted with prayer by the Rev. C. E. Hills, D. D.

The following officers were elected Rev. S. S. Bergen, moderator; Rev. L. N. Leith, reading clerk

The roll was called and a large attendance of ministers and elders answered to their names.

The moderator appointed the various committees Tuesday morning. Various committees of installations made their report. The recommendation of the committee on Lakemont that the property therein sold for the sum of $1,000 was adopted.

The committee on Denholm reported favorably upon their work there. The committee on the preparation of a manual reported and the report was adopted.

The commissioners to the general assembly reported and their fidelity was approved.

A call for the pastoral services of the Rev. Samuel Martin from the State College church was read and Mr. Martin was received from the Presbytery of Blairsville and accepted the call. Arrangements were made for his installation.

Rev. George N. Makely was received from the presbytery of St. Paul, and accepted calls from Burnham and Little Valley churches. Arrangements were made for his installation.

The Rev. N. H. G. Fife, D. D., offered his resignation as pastor of the Clearfield church, after remarks by two commissioners of the church as to the high esteem in which Dr. Fife is held by his congregation. Remarks of regret were made by a number of members of the presbytery showing their high esteem for Dr. Fife.

Rev. Howard Obold, of the Juniata classes of the Reformed church, was introduced to the presbytery and invited to sit as a corresponding member. The Rev. G. W. Downing of the Baptist church was also introduced.

Professor David Emmert, of Juniata College, was introduced and invited to sit as a corresponding member. The committees on foreign missions and other benevolent causes reported and the presbytery took a recess until 2 p. m.

Tuesday afternoon the presbytery heard the reports of the auditing committe, the college board, American Bible society, education and evangelistic committee. Dr. Platts followed the last report with a strong plea for the earnest co-operation of the pastors and churhes.

Swindling Hotel Men.

Bogus check men, who are playing their nefarious work in this locality, have victimized several hotel men in Williamsport. A number of hotel men in Pennsylvania have been defrauded. News has reached here from Altoona that the rascals were there only a few days ago and succeeded in fleecing two of the leading hotels out of $275. A man stops over night at a hotel and next morning requests the clerk to cash a check, using the printed name and address of the firm for which he alleges he is working. The printing allays suspicion at once, and the man disappears, of course, as soon as he obtains the cash on the bogus paper.

Enough to Make a Dog Laugh.

The Jersey Shore Herald tells of a lady in that place who was very much irritated by her dog taking every opportunity to sleep on her beds. She often threatened what she would do if she caught him. One evening, coming quietly into her room, she saw what she thought was the dog in the centre of the clean bed. She raised her cane and came down with all her force and quickly followed the first blow with a second one. Closer examination disclosed the fact that the supposed dog was her new bonnet laid there for safe keeping.

Academy Won and Lost.

The Academy team defeated Punxsutawney's strong eleven in a very hard fought game at Punxsutawney on Friday afternoon by a score of 6 0 and then went to Indiana and played a heavier team coached by Eddy Wood, formerly of Penna State, suffering defeat by the score of 15 0. Here is where the academy made a mistake which they will never make again. A young team can not stand the strain of two hard games on successive days and defeat might have been expected under such unusual conditions. However the detailed accounts of the game show that the academy boys played a wonderful game, sore as they were tearing up and spoiling the hard rushes of the Indiana heavy eleven again and again and advancing the ball frequently into their territory, but the game of the previous day had naturally exhausted their snap. The Academy forward passes were far more successful than those of their opponent, Dillon and Thomas getting off for long runs with a clear field ahead, but were run down by their fresher opponents. Wait for the return game to be played here on Monday, Nov. 2, you will get your money's worth. A record of four victories and one defeat is one to be proud of. Williamsport High plays here on Saturday.

Chased by a Panther.

The Clearfield Public Spirit says: "Wilse Wallace, herder and keeper of the Pitch Pine hunting camp, at the headwaters of Cold stream, started this morning before daybreak to ride his pony to town for supplies, and near Mineral spring heard the wail of panther which struck him as the voice of a woman lost in the woods. It sounded quite a distance away at first, but became louder and louder until Wilse decided he had better gallop the pony out into the settlement as fast as possible. This he did, now and then hearing the breaking of brush in the woods behind him. Strange enough the hungry animal never once struck the road but kept in the pathless woods. When Mr. Wallace reached Sipe's farm his pony was white with a lather of sweat and he said the wind had whistled through his whiskers like a fierce northeaster. Although an old hunter and acquainted with the woods and mountains for more than 70 years, yet he confessed the wail of that 'painter' sounding like a woman calling for help in the wild woods, made his hair rise with fright."

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

PLOT TO DESTROY PLANT

Culprits Do Bad Work at Pittsburg Filter Plant.

CUT ELECTRIC WIRES

The $8,000,000 System Was Temporarily Rendered Useless by Tampering With The Machinery.

CLUES MAY LEAD TO ARRESTS SOON

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—A plot to destroy Pittsburg's $8,000,000 filtration plant was discovered today. The culprits began by puncturing and cutting wires connected with the electrical apparatus, putting the clearing and recovering machinery out of commission and temporarly destroying the usefulness of the plant. It is the belief of those in charge of the plant that enemies of the project will make further attemps to destroy the apparatus.

Wires have been grounded and short circuits thrown into various parts of the mechanism. The damage is so extensive that it is almost impossible to locate it all and make repairs. Mayor Guthrie has been informed of the situation and with officials of the Department of Public Work has discovered several valuable clews that may lead to senesational arrests in the near future.

The city and county detective forces are working diligently to secure evidence. That it is an "inside job" is the belief of those who have investigated the damage so far.

While Mayor Guthrie, Director Shepherd and others say they have suspected a plot for a long time, the facts were kept quiet. The administration feared that publicity would disturb the people and induce them to believe that they were about to lose their chances for permantly filtered water.

Marry to Get Jobs.

Cupid has been enlisted to land jobs for Butler's unemployed, and right manully has he set about accomplishing the task. Within the last two weeks—ever since the Standard Steel Car company has started in to employ men—clergymen of Butler have been busy. It was announced when the car works resumed that former employes would be given the preference when it came to giving out jobs.

Without exception every man who applied was asked if he were married or single. The single men were turned down and the married men were employed.

This fact soon became known to all the idle men, and, with the hope of getting employment, not less than sixty-five single men, former employes of the works, have been married within two weeks. Preachers and priests, realizing the position of the would-be benedicts have announced that any man who hasn't the necessary marriage fee can pay after he gets a job.

No Pumpkins for Preachers.

Potatoes, hams, pumpkins, sausages and other products of the farm will no longer serve in lieu of salaries for United Brethren preachers of the East Pennsylvania conference. At a session of that body in convention at York the other day a resolution was passed making $600 a year and free rent the minimum salary to be paid any minister, the conference to make up the deficiency in cases where congregations are unable to meet the obligation. This is a deserved and righteous action. Most preachers get all too little if they receive every dollar of their fixed salary, and the payment of part of their earnings in vegetables ought not to be permitted or accepted. We find, however, that at the same convention in which the ministers' pay was insisted to be co n of the realm it was determined also that ministers shall hereafter give their undivided attention to their charges and not devote a portion of the time to selling books or stocks.

Deposit Guarantee Abandoment

An interesting development that is of direct interest to manufacturers and financiers is the action of the Oklahoma banks in abandoning Mr. Bryan's pet bank deposit guarantee scheme. Of the fifty-seven national banks in Oklahoma that went into the plan along with State banks and trust companies only about fifteen preferred to throw up their Federal charters and become state institutions. The significance of this movement is apparent. It would seem that the majority of the Oklahoma bankers are now in accord with Secretary Elihu Root's judgment that "The attempt to make all the profits of good management bear all the losses of bad management is a step in the socialistic process which would level all destinctions between thrift and recklessness.

PATE DE FOIE GRAS.

Fearful Cruelty That Makes This Dainty a Possibility.

To the ordinary man and woman no conception of the torture to which the poor, unfortunate goose is put could possibly be formed.

The geese when about nine months old are taken from the pastures and placed in an underground cellar, where broad, slanting stone slabs stand in rows, and are bound fast to the tables. They are literally crucified.

Feet, wings and bodies are spread out and bound by bands, so that only the neck is left free. As may be imagined, the animal struggles with all its might against this stretching till, after days of vain endeavor to free itself from the bands and its position, its powers of resistance are overcome, and a dull resignation, broken only by its low cries, takes possession of it. Two months must pass away before death brings relief.

The animals are meanwhile crammed with dumplings made of dough of buckwheat, chestnuts and stewed maize. Every two hours, six times a day, they receive from three to five dumpling pills, which in time become so sweet to the tortured creatures that they stretch their necks to be crammed.

The most difficult task is to determine the right moment for death. Those who die of their own accord are lost to the liver factory; therefore a kind of study is needed to see when the cup of agony is brimming full and the liver is ripe for taking. The bodies of such ripe ones are like pumpkins. Where ordinarily fingers are buried in flesh and fat nothing but skin and bone are found. The livers have absorbed all the strength and juices.

WHY WE SLEEP.

Darkness and Our Eyes the Answer, Says a Scientist.

If it were always daylight we should never sleep. So says a scientist. There is no particular reason why we or any other animals should rest on an average eight or nine hours a day.

The period of rest has been determined by the fact that eight hours is the average time when there is a lack of sufficient light to enable us to move about in comfort.

This most fundamental distinction between day and night is wholly relative to the sense of sight. It only affects those types of life which have developed eyes.

Plants, being dependent for their growth upon the action of rays of sunlight which fall upon their leaves, have a wide distinction between day and night functions. They eat and digest in the light and grow during the hours of darkness.

The lowest forms of animal life—the sightless denizens of ocean depths—do not rest at regular intervals. They prowl around incessantly, seeking prey by the sense of touch alone. When they rest it is at irregular periods. In other words, they have no distinct periodicity of their own.

But as soon as eyes are developed, and in proportion of this development, animals begin to divide their time into two main portions—a waking and a sleeping time. While there is light they perform all motive functions. When darkness comes they retire to nest or lair to rest.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Other Great Man.

Dr. Russell Cool of California happened to suppress an epidemic of measles while on a vacation trip to Tahiti, and Chief Oreaori gratefully invited him to a banquet in his primitive palace. The south sea potentate and his white guest sat amiably on the floor and dined off roast pig and other native delicacies served on broad leaves and eaten with the fingers. After dinner host and guest adjourned to seats outside the palace, lit long, fat, black cigars and gazed out over the moonlit Pacific. In the eyes of Chief Oreaori, Robert Louis Stevenson, who did so much to improve the condition of the south sea islanders, was the greatest white man that ever lived. The chief related to Dr. Cool many incidents to illustrate Stevenson's kindliness, then asked a score of questions about the health of Stevenson's widow and of his stepchildren. When the last question had been answered there followed a long period of silence. The two friends puffed slowly at their cigars and luxuriously regarded the radiant tropic moonlight glowing upon rustling palm fronds and the silvery ocean. Then Oreaori turned to the doctor and demanded, "Now tell me about John L. Sullivan!"—Harper's Weekly.

Freezing Flesh.

It is a curious fact that, although dwellers in northern climes must have known for ages that a low temperature preserves flesh from putrefaction, it never seems to have struck any one that this natural fact could be turned to artificial advantage until Lord Bacon stuffed the historic chicken with snow and thereby caught a chill which killed him. It is perhaps even more curious that an experiment resulting in the death of one of the most eminent men in the world should not have called any attention to an already well known principle which might have been readily turned to great advantage. As a matter of fact, it was not until the year 1875, 249 years after Lord Bacon's fatal experiment, that freezing was practically employed as a method of preserving flesh. This was the commencement of the frozen meat trade between America and England. Four years later a dry air refrigerator was perfected.

Sawed off the Coffin.

A dispatch from Coudersport says: Several dozen colored people from this town were among the chief mourners at the funeral of Mrs. David Smith, near East Bangor. When the party arrived at the grave they were horrified when the pallbearers found it impossible to lower the coffin itself, which was too long for the rough box.

The outcome of the unusual circumstance was an extraordinary as the situation itself, for after a consultation between the relatives and the undertaker it was decided to saw a piece from each end of the coffin and proceed with the burial, and this was done.

Mrs. Joseph Smith, formerly Miss Lydia Ray, of Stroudsburg, and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Smith who was being buried, fainted when she heard the sound of the coffin saw.

The trouble all came about through the mistake of a driver, who took to the grave a box too short, which had been secured already when the funeral party arrived. A scene followed the discovery of the driver's error, and it was with much difficulty that many of the sorrowing relatives could be restrained.

It was at first suggested that another box be procured, and this would have been done but for the long delay entailed, and so the undertaker and relatives finally agreed to make the coffin fit.

Railroad Death Rates.

The railroads of Pennsylvania killed 92 persons during the month of August and injured 1101, making a total of accidents to 1193 persons.

In other words, the deaths were almost three a day and the injuries about 35 a day.

Fifty-five of the 92 deaths were caused by persons being struck by trains, locomotives or cars; eleven were caused by persons jumping off trains, locomotives or cars, seven by persons falling from trains, six at grade crossings, and four in collisions.

Of the fatal accidents 76 were on steam railroads and 16 on street railways. Of the injured 683 were on steam roads and 418 on street railways.

The steam roads killed no passengers, their death list comprising 22 employes, 48 trespassers and six others at grade crossings. The street railways killed one employe, four passengers, five trespassers and six others.

Bryan as an Art Critic.

William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, was asked which of all the cartoons the newspapers had printed about him he liked the best. Bringing forth a cartoon printed in The New York World, Mr. Bryan said: "That's my favorite."

It is not only cartoons, but news stories from all parts of the earth, illustrated articles about science, religion, art, politics, tragedy, romance, etc., comic skits by America's leading artists; sporting, theatrical, financial, etc., facts and figures and scores of other prominent features that make the New York Sunday World the best magazine newspaper published in the United States.

Citizens Taking Interest.

The application of F. H. Fisher, of Boalsburg and D. S. Drake, of Huntingdon for a franchise for an electric light and power system in Bellefonte has aroused considerable interest on the part of the citizens. The announcement that these gentlemen had secured an option on the Green estate at Milesburg was the cause of much discussion, and now that the promoters have ask for the right of entering the borough the consumers of electric current have visions of cheaper rates. The ordinance presented Monday night for the consideration of councils states the maximum charges that shall be made, and is a reduction of one-third of the present prices the borough and citizens are paying. Believing that "competition is the life of trade" many persons are urging the passage of this ordinance. If erected the plant would be located where there is unfailing water power as the springs about Bellefonte continue at all times of the year to feed the stream undiminished in the least.

One of the great advantages to be derived from the proposed plant would be the continuous day and night services, thus furnishing power for many industries in and about Bellefonte. The interest of the residents of the town are involved in the project and the ordinance presented at the last meeting of the council demands the careful consideration of that august body.

The idea of the proposed loan for the erection of a borough light plant is not so well received as the Drake-Fisher ordinance. It is believed by many that the borough is already heavily enough bonded and also that it should not enter into competition with private enterprise.

Accident in Fog.

Two men were killed, one fatally injured, five others seriously hurt, and a dozen more bruised, cut and battered by a wreck on the Pennsylvania low grade line at Washington Borough Tuesday morning. All were workmen. The accident was due to a dense fog.

A work train with a coach at the rear had stopped on a bridge over a small stream which empties into the Susquehanna River at that point. There were fifty men in the coach and before the flagman had sufficient time to go back to effectually flag any train following a heavy freight loomed up out of the fog and crashed into the rear of the passenger coach, ploughing almost entirely through it. The workmen were hurled with the debris in every direction, some being thrown into the stream beneath the bridge, and others into the Susquehanna, which is shallow at that point. The embankment is about twenty-five feet above the river.

Antonio Cortlesso, 29 years of age, was crushed to death, and George Franklin Fitskee, 36 years, and Michael Yost, 22 years, badly crushed. The former died later in Columbia Hospital. The other seriously injured were mostly foreigners.

"Mem-sahib," asked a young East Indian girl of her English mistress, "why do you wear those sad colors? I don't like them."

"I am in mourning, Lattoo. It is the custom of English ladies."

"But black is the color of night, mem-sahib, and yet you believe that when you die you go to heaven at once. Then why not be glad for your friends who die and wear colors such as we see in birds and flowers and falling water when the sun shines? God doesn't make your colors. Ah, well, Christians are strange people!"—From "The Indian Alps."

A Woman's Country.

The Frenchwoman may not be so classical in form or outline as many of England's beautiful women, but she has undoubtedly the gift of charm, and by virtue of this elusive, tantalizing quality she has for centuries bewitched and enthralled all the men of her country. France today is the most woman ridden country and also the most peaceful, prosperous and contented. The women rule by charm.—Stormy Petrel.

EDITORIAL.

WHEN Mr. Walker was nominated for Congress by the Democrats, Captain Barclay and the Republican party assumed that he was a gentleman, have at all times endeavored to treat him as one, and sincerely desire to continue so to do. Some of the Democratic papers in the district, and it is said that Mr. Walker himself, have been making personal attacks upon Mr. Brrclay, that they know to be absolutely without truth. We sincerely hope and want to believe that Mr Walker is in no way responsible for these attacks upon the character and business reputation of Mr Barclay, whose life is a refutation of them: and unless we are mistaken in assuming that Mr Walker is a gentleman we are sure he will put an end to them at once.

LABOR ABROAD IS SUFFERING SADLY

Industrial Depression World-Wide, It Is Passing Here.

AMERICAN OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

While Manufacturing Establishments in the United States Are Increasing Their Payrolls, Distress Among the Unemployed Prevails Throughout Great Britain and the European Continent.

[Special Correspondence.]

New York, Oct. 13.

That the recent financial panic from which the United States is now recovering was not the result of local conditions is indicated by the fact that a severe business and industrial depression for months has prevailed throughout the world.

The United States has suffered less than any other country.

In fact, the situation in this country is not to be compared to that abroad.

Official reports recently received by the department of commerce and labor furnish an accurate index to the business conditions of foreign countries. These reports show that the imports into the United Kingdom for home consumption and the exports of domestic manufacture have declined greatly. The situation there grows worse.

In August the decline in exports was 18.7 per cent. The decline in re-exports, that is goods imported from other countries for sale to foreign purchasers, was $67,532,420 for eight months this year, or over 20 per cent. The falling off in net imports was $137,079,572 for the same time. The decline in exports of domestic manufacture in that country was $156,000,000, or 10.6 per cent, in eight months, about 2 per cent greater than the decline in the United States in the same time.

Many Unemployed Abroad.

Pauperism has increased enormously in the United Kingdom this year, and the number of persons receiving indoor relief is the greatest since the records began in 1868.

A census of the unemployed, taken by the newspapers, shows an extraordinary number—over 22,000 in Glasgow alone. The London Times says that the outlook is "the worst that the younger men have faced," adding: "The dominant fact is that there is no life in shipbuilding, and no prospect of any revival. The railway shops have cut down their staffs; 50 per cent of the masons are out of work, and 25 per cent of the plumbers."

Many Seek Charity.

A Blue Book of the British government shows that nearly 1,000,000 persons were receiving relief on Jan. 1, which number has greatly increased since that time. In London alone 149,000 persons were securing relief—a great number over the previous year. Wages have declined greatly.

The London Financial Times, a high authority, of Sept. 19, says:

"For the greater part of the year we have been passing through a very acute phase of commercial depression, and we have seen both imports and exports decline at a rate that has been anything but consoling. A review of the business of the principal foreign countries and colonies shows that practically everywhere business is in a very lethargic state. The board of trade returns of the commerce of foreign countries furnishes the necessary figures showing the condition of business in those countries.

"The imports for home consumption of Belgium for seven months show a decline of nearly $25,000,000. Those of Canada show a decline of 23 per cent, or nearly $40,000,000; France, $25,000,000; Germany, $45,000,000, and so on with other countries. The domestic exports from those nations also show large declines. The greatest is that of Egypt, which for the seven months shows a decline of over 19 per cent, or nearly $13,000,000. France shows a decline of nearly $35,000,000, or over 6 per cent. Germany's decline in exports is less, but reached a total of about $10,000,000. Japan shows a decline of 12 per cent, or $12,000,000, and Switzerland a decline of 10 per cent, or over $10,000,000, and so on with other countries.

"The decline in the domestic exports of the United States is very much less than those from the United Kingdom, and the relative decline was very much less than that of Switzerland, Japan, Egypt, British South Africa, and some other countries. The average decline shown in imports of all the countries was over 12 per cent, and in some exports over 8 per cent. The later returns show even worse figures. Generally speaking, therefore, we have abundant proof of the widespread nature of the present depression in trade, and we need not alarm ourselves that we are experiencing any special chastisement in the hands of fate."

"The Thunderer's" Tale of Distress.

The London Times in a recent issue, speaking about the condition of affairs in Scotland, says:

"The present generation does not recall such slackness in all industries, and, of course, in commerce which depends upon the activity of workshops and factories.

"The outlook for the winter is the worst that the younger men have yet faced. One shipbuilding yard has not a vessel on the docks, and another large one is employing only a third of its full complement of workmen. The dominant fact is that there is no life in shipbuilding, no prospect of any revival, no orders in sight of any considerable magnitude. Therefore it is feared that the winter will be a very hard one. Cautious estimates put the total number of men, including laborers, out of work in Glasgow at from 20,000 to 30,000. Yarrow's is the only shipbuilding yard that is fully employed. The largest forge has reduced its staff from 4000 to 2500. The railway shops have cut down their staffs on account of economies. Fifty per cent of the masons are out of work and 25 per cent of the plumbers.

"In the textile trade most of the factories are on short time or keeping down their output, so that women's wages are in fact reduced from 18 shillings ($4.37) a week to 10 shillings ($2.43). Half of the 4000 dockers are unemployed. The provident societies tell rather doleful tales. Life policies are lapsing all around, in short, work is scare and the rations to become scarcer. Following the example set by the Glasgow Herald, the lord provost has opened a distress fund, and liberal response in being made by the citizens."

The New York Journal of Commerce, in its issue for Sept. 23 reviewing American and British foreign trade, states:

Home Conditions Not So Bad.

"The falling off in American exports in August amounted to only 13.2 per cent, while on the British side there was a decrease of 18.7 per cent. Our own export figures for the eight months as compared with the eight months ending with August, 1907, show a decrease of less than 9 per cent. The British figures for the corresponding period show a decline of 10.5 per cent."

From this it will seem that the situation is much worse in the United Kingdom and in some other countries than it is in the United States. The British board of trade returns for August show the largest aggregate decrease in trade for any month of the year. The imports fell over $30,000,000 in that month, and the exports about $37,000,000. This enormous decline in trade, the London Times says, "is of much importance to the working classes owing to the enormous number of unemployed." A dispatch says:

"With the trade declining in the alarming manner shown by the above figures, the outlook for the workers during the coming winter is very gloomy. The most serious feature in the point of view of the workingman is the falling off of exports of manufactured goods."

The situation in Germany is much the same, although not quite so bad as in the United Kingdom. The Canadian government, owing to the trade conditions, has adopted regulations to prevent immigrants from coming to that country unless well supplied with funds. At the recent session of the Canadian Manufacturers' association in Winnipeg, the parliamentary committee reported as follows:

"The one outstanding feature of the year has been the pinch of hard times which all of us have suffered in a greater or less degree. The London labor bureau of the association has been closed as a result of the industrial and financial depression."

Death on the Rails

Referring to the recent report of deaths on the railroads in this state the Philadelphia Press says:

Many were trespassers. None need have been there but for grade crossings and a lax police as to tramps and vagrants. No passengers were killed on railroads in August. There were forty-eight trespassers killed and six cut down on the track when they had a right to be there.

The record for railroad passengers is excellent. Pennsylvania lines carry their passengers with safety. Trespassing is not their fault and grade crossings not of their making.

The State, outside of the cities, ought to police the line of railroads so that tramps are suppressed. No man should be allowed to use a railroad track as a footpath without arrest. It is a danger no one should be permitted to run. Grade crossings must go. New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut have a system established under which the State, locality and the railroad divide the cost of removing "grade crossings." This State should adopt the same plan.

THERE is no need of carrying concealed weapons in the ordinary walks of life in this country. Only foreigners who come here without any regard for law or order follow this practice. Such appears to be anxious to be a law unto themselves If the practice is stopped there will be fewer murders and greater public safety. No measures to secure this end can be too stringent.

GOMPERS CAN'T CONTROL LABOR

President of United Mine Workers Speaks Out Plainly.

HE DECLINES TO BE CATS' PAW

An Official Declaration Which Spreads Consternation Among Men Working In the Interest of Bryan and Which Shows the Temper of the Leaders Who Seek Only to Promote the Cause of Labor and Not Advance Selfish Ends.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.

Samuel Gompers, who has been trying to swing the labor vote to Bryan, got a severe jolt when he read an official circular issued by T. L. Lewis, the national president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Bryan managers have been claiming a big following among the mine workers, but President Lewis has made it clear that this organization shall not be used to pull the chestnuts out of the fire of men who seek to work union labor in politics to advance their own aims.

In this letter, sent out a few days ago by President Lewis, among other things says:

"We are in the midst of a political campaign. Every method known to political managers will be used to secure votes for their respective candidates. This is especially true in the attempt to obtain expressions from those holding official positions in labor unions.

"I am in receipt of hundreds of letters from men of all shades of political beliefs and from all parts of the United States, asking for my opinion of the different candidates, or my views upon the issues involved in the political campaign.

"The United Mine Workers did not elect me international president to influence your political preferences, or how you should cast your vote on election day. You have elected me to direct the affairs of the United Mine Workers. The success of the United Mine Workers and the welfare of its members has and will receive my first and only consideration as long as I have the honor of representing you.

Not Taking Sides.

"I am not responsible for interviews appearing in the newspapers, alleged to be from me, that I favor any particular candidate. I have declined to express or to give any statement politically for or against any candidate or issue, nor do I intend to do so. This letter will be my answer to all who ask me for any advice along political lines.

"I have the honor to represent an organization of nearly 300,000 members of every known nationality and different political views. We have among our members Prohibitionists, Populists, Independents, Socialists, Democrats and Republicans. From what I know of our members you are fully competent to decide for yourselves how you will vote on election day.

"All my time is required to look after the interests of the United Mine Workers. Those interested in the subject matter of this letter will please refrain from writing me in connection with politics if they hope to get an answer.

"The United Mine Workers as an organization has been in existence for many years before this political campaign, and we all wish that it may live many years after the present campaign has passed into history, and until every wrong of which the miner complains is honorably adjusted."

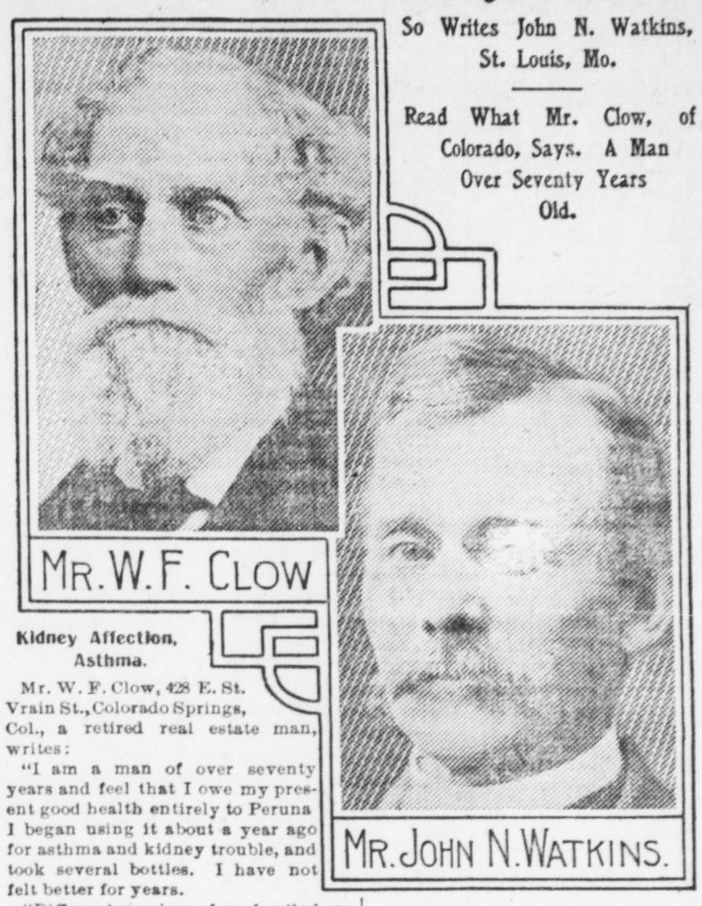
THE 19-year-old young man out in Butler who was never inside at church or a school house, and who did not know how to read or write, who had no knowledge concerning the meaning of an oath, who had never so much as heard about a God, is simply a sample case. One would like to think, for the credit of our school system and of our civilization, that this is a gross exaggeration, a base falsehood, and that the young man is simply a myth, the creation of some reporter's vivid fancy. One wonders what sort of parents this young man has that they should bring him up in such abysmal ignorance in the very midst of free schools and churches and other agencies for the welfare of the race. And yet this is not an entirely isolated case. One who lives among intelligent people is apt to forget the extent of the world's ignorance.

CIGARETTE smoking is said to have started the fire at Chelsea, Massachusetts, in which eighteen persons were killed and property valued at one and one-half million dollars destroyed. The cigarette must go.

Nothing Equals Pe-ru-na For Serious Kidney Trouble.

So Writes John N. Watkins, St. Louis, Mo.

Read What Mr. Clow, of Colorado, Says. A Man Over Seventy Years Old.



Kidney Affection, Asthma.

Mr. W. F. Clow, 428 E. St. Vrain St., Colorado Springs, Col., a retired real estate man, writes:

"I am a man of over seventy years and feel that I owe my present good health entirely to Peruna I began using it about a year ago for asthma and kidney trouble, and took several bottles. I have not felt better for years.

"Different members of my family have used it also, and have only words of praise to speak for Peruna."

Attributes Health to Pe-ru-na.

William Bailey, 58 I St., N. E., Washington, D. C., Past Col. Encampment No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and Secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles.

Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peruna, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. He considers himself now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Mr. John N. Watkins, 3133 Shenandoah Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"Among all the greatly advertised medicines for kidney and bladder trouble there is nothing which equals Peruna. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose, until I took Peruna.

"One bottle did me more good than all the others put together, as they only poisoned my system. Peruna cured me. I used it for four months before a complete cure was accomplished, but am truly grateful to you. The least I can do in return is to acknowledge the merits of Peruna."

People Who Object to Liquid Medicines Should Buy Peruna Tablets

A Puzzling Feature.

There is no denying that the present campaign is one of the quietest on record. What does it mean? It is an ominous quiet? And if so, ominous of what? The man who can answer these questions accurately can also tell us whether Taft or Bryan will be chosen president. All sorts of reasons are advanced for this most puzzling feature of the fight.

It goes without saying that on account of lack of campaign funds in the treasuries of both the great parties there are not so many demonstrations, meetings, parades and orators as we have been accustomed to in previous campaigns when there was a real contest on. Then there is the abolition of railroad passes. This not only militates against the supply of volunteer speakers, but politicians great and small do not move about with the same freedom and abandon as of yore. So we are reduced to what is being done by the four candidates themselves and a few of the more brilliant lights of the political world. They make the speeches and the newspapers print what they say as may suit the occasion, or the newspaper fancy or space.

In this respect, too, there is a perceptible change from former presidential years. Once it was the custom to broadside the leading speech and give to others but scant space. Now few of the speeches are printed in full, but newspaper readers get a greater variety, in short compass and often from many sources, in a single day. Nor should the influence of the rural free delivery upon the situation be ignored. More daily papers go direct to the subscriber on day of publication now than ever before. In 1897 there were but 83 rural free delivery routes, but since then the Republican administration has brought the number up to 39,270, serving 16,000,000 people. They are getting the news of the campaign and can keep pace with current discussion—without the aid of mass meetings—far better than in the old days.

These things explain in part why the campaign is quiet, but they do not explain the paucity of political conversation between individuals. Nor do they explain the meaning of the quietness. Are the people serenely satisfied that the Republican party is their best and safest political agency, and determined again to vote it into power, or are they sullenly dissatisfied and carefully withholding their opinions until November 3, when they can express them by ballot?—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

FOREIGN CAPITAL IS CONCERNED

Europeans Will Make Investments Here If Taft Wins.

An argument against Bryan that is growing in importance, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, is that which deals with the sentiment said to be held by some voters, that the Democratic candidate would not be in a position to do much harm as president because of the fact that the senate would still be Republican. A New York bankers, Mr. Jules Bache, is back from Europe with reports that financial interests over there are taking much interest in the canvass and that if Taft is elected foreign investments will increase. He explains that the great fear would be of the men with whom Bryan would surround himself. Roosevelt, he says, has always had first class business men in his cabinet.

Mr. Bryan's surroundings, on the contrary, have been of the opposite character, and the principal danger, in the event of his election, would lie in the fact that a large number of vacancies in the United States courts would have to be filled during his incumbency. We can judge the future only by the past, so we must assume that Mr. Bryan would take the same class of men for those offices that he has taken for his political advisers.

While it is true that as president Mr. Bryan could not force through laws against the judgment of the Republican senate and thus could not be much of a menace to the country in that way, at least for two years, he could play havoc with it through his appointments. Not only could he revolutionise the supreme court by inviting men of socialistic tendencies to the bench, but he could upset the treasury and upheave the departments through a radical change in policies. Suppose a Haskell to be called to the treasury department?

We must either continue the principles of Roosevelt by the election of Taft or submit to the exploitation of a lot of theories for the next four years by Bryan. There can be no compromise. It is one thing or the other.

We had the pleasure of enjoying a joke played on William Treaster of Lamar one day recently. Some of his friends bagged up a bushel of apples with some railroad iron and stones, sending him word that a bag of good eating apples were at the R. R. depot for him. William went to get them with his hand cart and was surprised to find they were so heavy, When he got home he thought he would sample them, and imagine his surprise when apples, stones and iron rolled out. You may imagine what a humor he was in, then think of the night some one was stealing his chickens and got up and chased him without taking time to dress.

Wilbur Housel, Mr. Smith and Mr. Salkeld of Altoona were recent guests of Uriah Housel and family.

An Opinion in Black

Frederick Bechtol was in town Wednesday announcing the appearance of John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels at the opera house Wednesday Oct. 21st. He was in an anecdotal mood, and related of a local mascot of manager Vogel's at his home city, Columbus, Ohio. Ever since that enterprising minstrel magnate first started on his own account he has seen to it that Uncle Josh, a professor of whitewash and wood-saw, is eligibly placed in a "preserved seat" at the opening performance. Uncle Josh counts himself as a rare judge of minstrelsy, and nothing out of the ordinary moves him to applause or commendation. Knowing this the performers play at the ancient darky and feel that they are safe in general approval if they win his favor. At Columbus, when the troupe returned from the parade, Uncle Josh was a committee of one to welcome them. "You see, Uncle Joeh," said Manager Vogel, "that the company is much larger than ever." "Yaas," returned the old man, differentially doffing his hat with the air of a sage whose opinion was of value, "Yaas, it is perceptibly swollen."

Reunion of the 49th.

The balloon ascension and parachute drop by Prof. Casselo was very successful again on Thursday, the large balloon ascending almost perpendicular. The descent was made just across the creek on the side of the mountain a short distance from the grounds.

FRIDAY

Friday was the closing day of the ninth Centre County fair and one of the best days of the week as far as races were concerned, However, the crowd looked rather small compared with the unusually large attendance on Thursday. Thursday is as a rule the day that is chosen by the people from other parts of the county to attend the fair. The indications for rain in the morning no doubt kept many away. The afternoon was quite cool and overcoats and wraps were very very comfortable.

Good races were promised for Friday and the presence of the famous Repaez band of Williamsport attracted many to the grounds. Friday's races were considered by many the most exciting of any during the three days of the fair, and especially the 2 20 pace which required six heats to decide the winner. "J. B." owned by John Vipond of Altoona, won the first two heats, and "Lois Patchen," won the third heat. The fourth heat was won by "Lera C." and in the fifth "Lois Patchen" again won the heat, necessitating the sixth. Only the three heat winners participated in this and it was very exciting. "Lois Patchen" took the lead in the first half and kept a good lead to the finish. The scores:

FIRST RACE

2.20 trot and pace—purse $200.

Lois Patchen	5	6	1	3	1	1
J. B.	1	1	2	2	5	3
Lera C.	2	5	3	1	2	2

It was almost six o'clock until the races were over and as the crowd left at the finish the balloon ascension did not take place.

Many of the exhibits were removed Friday afternoon at the close of the fair and Saturday the balance was removed. The fair is considered one of the best yet held.

New Pure Good Law.

The preliminary drafts of a new pure food law which will meet the requirements of the constitution is now being made, and the probabilities are that it will be presented to the next session of the legislature to take the place of the Dustin pure food law, which was recently declared unconstitutional by Judge Bell of Blair county, and a section by Judge Smith of Clearfield county.

The new law will include not only foods but milk, ice cream and other products. There is also discussion of a proposed pure drink law, as at present the state cannot regulate the sale of liquors.

A Talented Singer.

Manager Brown of the Scenic theatre has been quite fortunate in securing Miss Maude Hovey, of Buffalo, as the singer for a limited engagement. Miss Hovey made her first appearance in Bellefonte Monday evening and was well received, The audience was so pleased with her singing that she was encored time after time.

Miss Hovey possesses a very rich soprano voice which she controls with ease and her excellent singing has delighted the large audiences present each evening. She has been singing through this section of the state for some time and is highly recommended as a drawing card everywhere she goes.

Trivial Cases.

The Lewisburg Journal says: The grand jury, after working day and night for the past week, completed its work at Sunbury and tendered a most interesting report to the court. The jury reported having acted on 179 bills, found 104 of them true, and ignored 65. Of the latter they placed the cost of but sixteen on the county, the prosecutors in the other cases being adjudged responsible for the expense necessitated by their dragging petty cases before justices in fact, the jury was loath in many instances to place the costs on either the county or the principals, deeming the justices of the peace responsible for many of the trivial cases sent down for trial.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting called for Monday to adjust the standing of the teams in the Centre and Clinton league was postponed on account of there not being a sufficient number present to conduct the business on hand. The meeting has been called for Mill Hall next Saturday when it is expected that all the managers and members of the committee will be present with their score books and any minutes they have to properly adjust the matter.

A writer in the Lock Haven Express recently suggested that steps should be taken to have a tri-county league next season, the league to be composed of teams from Clinton, Lycoming and Centre counties. The writer suggests that the following towns be in the league: Clinton—Lock Haven and Renovo; Lycoming—Williamsport and Jersey Shore; Centre—Bellefonte and Howard or Snow Shoe. Such a league may be all right but it would take some time and work to get it under way, and as the writer says, now is the time to work and not after the robins and blue birds have returned. Bellefonte is a little weak in the baseball line support and it would keep the fans here hustling to get into line with this movement. However judging from the attendance at some of the C. and C. league games here this fall it seems there would be sufficient patronage to support a team.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from his eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon then to woman, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Tried Conspiracy Game.

B. H. Leitzel, a resident of Kramer, Snyder county, is serving a sentence of six months in the Northumberland county jail due to having been trapped in trying to work a swindling game upon the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

Some time ago Leitzel and his wife made a trip to Buffalo and returning had their trunks checked to Lock Haven. Leitzel called for one of his trunks claiming he had lost the check and gave a lost check receipt in the name of J. C. Rollins. Next day he called at the baggage room and presented checks for two trunks. He was accused of being the man who gave the receipt and stated he was B. F. Hoyt. In the meantime Mrs. Leitzel's trunk had been taken away in a mistake by a drayman. Leitzel then made a claim against the railroad company for $500. Detectives were put to work on the case and soon learned who Leitzel was and where he was from.

When taken before Judge Savage he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in jail.

Fire Bills Enormous.

Reports received at the State Forestry Commission at Harrisburg show that the recent forest fires were of unusual severity due in a large measure to the prolonged drought.

In many places young timber as great as three inches in diameter was completely destroyed. In other places the humus on the ground was entirely burned, the depth ranging from six to twelve inches. Clearfield county suffered especially.

It is doubted if the state has sufficient money to reimburse counties for forest fire expenses. About $37,000 of the $40,000 appropriated by the last legislature, remains on hand, but, the bills will be exceptionally heavy.

The amount paid out is not the entire cost, however, but the county's share only. In fighting forest fires the state pays two-thirds of the cost and the county the balance.

The reservation commission approved the purchase of two small tracts of land to be added to the Pennsylvania reserve, in Perry county.

Tied Youth to Train.

Bound with a wire rope to a railroad train that was about to move, by two tramps, Harvey Fatzinger, a 16-year old boy, of Allentown after a desperate struggle, managed to release himself and started for home, falling exhausted at the doorstep. He is in a critical condition in consequence of the treatment he received and from fright.

Young Fatzinger was held up in an isolated spot by two tramps, who after they had relieved him of his pay, tied a rope about his neck and led him about the country, stopping at several out-of-the-way hotels, where they spent the money in drink, Fatzinger being in the meantime tied to a tree nearby.

Finally they bound his hands with a wire rope and, tying him to a railroad train that was about to move, abandoned the boy, expecting him to be killed.

Cat Disturbed Service.

Rev. Robert Fulton Stedling, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Dauphin, was preaching Sunday evening on the subject, "A Woman of Sidonia." He had just read the line, "And the disciple said, Send her away, for she is annoying us," when a stray cat that had wandered into the gallery set up a loud wail.

Silence followed, and the pastor continued to read, "And she lifted up her voice." Again a loud "meouw" resounded from the gallery.

"Remove that thing from the balcony" said the clergyman to the choir boy. While the lad was chasing the disturbe the service was temporarily suspended.

Reformed Synod.

The 162nd annual sessions of the Eastern Synod of the Reformed church in the U. S. will convent in St. Luke's Reformed Church, Lock Haven, this evening. The retiring president Rev. Rev. H. W. Bright or Norristown will preach the opening sermon. This synod is the largest ecclesiastical body of the Reformed church in the U. S. It has enrolled 338 clergymen, 550 congregations and 120,000 members. It meets as a delegated body and will have about 200 ministers and elders attending its sessions.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unfitted for the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."

O. L. RUSSELL, Agt. C. & N. W. Ry., Battle Creek, Ia.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a year now for neuralgia and find there is nothing like them. They surely have been a blessing to me." MRS. M. J. HAMILTON, Upper Alton, Ills.

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.

COIN OUTFIT CAPTURED

Secret Service Men Find Source of Bogus 10-Cent Pieces

FIVE WERE ARRESTED

House in Northumberland was Raided and Agents Found Moulds, Bad Coin and Stolen Goods

TRIAL IN UNITED STATES COURT.

Northumberland, Pa., Oct. 9.—In a raid under the direction of Secret Service agents early this morning a counterfeiter's outfit, a quantity of spurious coin and a wagon load of stolen goods were captured, while the alleged ringleader and all the members of the family with whom he resided, and who it is thought, aided him in his work, were arrested.

For some time past this section has been flooded with counterfeit 10 cent pieces and the matter was brought to the attention of the Secret Service. Agent W. P. Walsh, of Scranton, was detailed on the case and soon sufficient evidence was secured reflecting suspicions against Jack Wilson, who was recently released from the county prison at Sunbury.

He resided with a family named Beckley and it was planned to raid the house. Early this morning United States Marshall Hugh Evans, Secret Service Agent Walsh, Sheriff Raby, Deputy Sheriff Gribbins and Chief of Police Morton, of Sunbury, surprised the household and entered the home and instituted a search. Tearing away some wainscoting from a wall a secret hiding place was found which contained moulds for making counterfeit dollars and 10 cent pieces.

Some of the bogus 10 cent pieces and a wagon load of stolen goods, consisting of clothing, jewelry and merchandise, was recovered. Wilson and the Beckley family, father, mother, son and daughter, were arrested and taken to the jail in Sunbury. They will be taken before United States Commissioner N. S. Engle and sent to Scranton for trial at the United States Court.

Dog Attacked Children

Last Friday noon while Helen, aged 13 and Jesse, aged nine, children of Jesse Klinger, who resides on the main road leading from State College to Lemont, were on their way to school a bulldog belonging to John W Shuey attacked them. The dog which was following Mr. Shuey's wagon, without any reason jumped at the boy terribly lacerating his side below the breast bone.

The beast next turned his attention to the girl and sunk his fangs into her arm. The screams of the wounded children aroused nearby neighbors, but failed to make any impression on the owner of the dog until he was stopped by Mrs. J. C. Eckers, who called his attention to the children. Dr. Kidder was called in and cauterized the wounds. The dog was killed. It is to be hoped that no serious results will follow the attack.—Strte College Times.

Kodol For Indigestion.
Relieves sour stomach, palpitation of the heart. Digests what you eat.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PARIS CABBIES.

The War of Words That Comes When They Block Each Other.

There is no more entertaining way to spend an idle hour in Paris than to get into a taxicab and instruct the driver to go along some street where you will be reasonably sure to get into a jam or to bump against another cab. The charm of the experience is, of course, enhanced by your ignorance of what the cabbies say.

Should your driver merely graze the wheels of another cab he will turn on his seat and yell mellifluously at the other driver, who in turn will shoot back an assortment of vowels. But the best is a quarrel between two cabbies obstructing each other's way. The conversation, translated as nearly literally as is safe, goes in this wise:

"Sacred name! Why do you?"

"Holly blue! I do not!"

"Stomach on the ground! You have the face of an ox!"

"Blue stomach! Are you in chains?"

"A bas! Name of a dog!"

"Mon Dieu! Name of a pig!"

"Wow (or words to that effect)! Name of a name!"

"A thousand deaths! Name of a name of a name!"

Now you begin to expect some deluge. While you have not fully understood, you are satisfied that nothing but pistols and knives will wipe out the insults.

Unfortunately about this time the jam is untangled and you are allowed to drive away, but the other driver yells after yours:

"Aha! You are a little piece of brown soap!"

It seems that this expression is the "fighting name" in Paris. Were it not that your cabby owes a duty to you and must convey you to your destination you know by his facial expression that he would climb down and get that other cabby and muss up the city with him.

He contents himself with turning about and making a face in the direction of his enemy and of going through the motion of spitting at him.

Then he says "Yoop!" to the horse, and the war is over.—Chicago Post.

THATCHING.

The Ancient Art In the Low Countries and In England.

Once upon a time two amateur botanists were hunting bog mosses on Exmoor, on the confines of the land of Lorna Doone. About the hour of luncheon they found that their enthusiasm had led them far afield, a good hour and a half from the farmhouse which they had made their temporary headquarters. The only place which yielded promise of food was a shepherd's shack half a mile distant, so thither they went. That the shack, or, rather, its owner, a small, wiry, dark man with curly hair, could offer nothing better than brown bread, which was woefully "clit," or heavy, and raw onions is neither here nor there. The point was that the roof of the shack was artistically thatched with layers of plaited reeds.

"Feyther taught I th' way to do un," explained the shepherd, with an upward jerk of his thumb toward the roof. "An' his feyther taught 'im avore that, an' his feyther avore that, an' back an' back twill nobody can think."

"A hereditary art evidently," said one of the moss hunters to his companion. "But I never saw thatches like these outside of the Low Countries. Safe bet that this fellow is of Dutch descent." Then he said to the man of Devon, "And what is your name, may I ask?"

"Well," replied the shepherd, "most volk call I Van, but ma right name be Henry Van Torp. They do say that ma gurt-grandfeyther were a-vitin' against England an' were took prisoner an' married a Devon girl an' settled 'ereabout"—he indicated the southward sweep of the moor—"but these be a lot of voolish tales to ma thinkin'."—Craftsman.

His Last Question.

The counsel for the opposition had been bullying the witness for an hour or more when he finally asked:

"Is it true that there are traces of insanity in your family?"

"It would be folly to deny it," replied the witness. "My great-grandfather, who was studying for the ministry, gave it up to become a lawyer."

His Case.

Mrs. Spenders—Oh, John, I saw a sign in Bargain & Co.'s window today that reminded me of what I am most in—

Mr. Spenders—(interrupting hastily)—I, too, saw a sign in their window that reminded me of what I am. It read, "Reduced to 49 cents."—New York Journal.

OPEN SECRETS.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken the many users of his medicines into his full confidence. Thus too he has absolutely and completely removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr Pierce's medicines are now in a class all by themselves—being absolutely and in every sense Non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this booklet it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, and with the use of specially designed chemical apparatus, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health.

The exact properties of the several ingredients used in these medicines, as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

Dr. John Fyfe, of Saugatuck, Conn., Editor of the Department of Therapeutics in THE ECLECTIC REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) one of the chief ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription: "A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator and always favors a condition which makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system, cannot fail to be of great usefulness and of the utmost importance to the general practitioner of medicine."

"Helonias more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent."

"The following are among the leading indications for Helonias: Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia, ("flooding") due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhea, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and an anemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensation in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is rich in all the medical properties of Unicorn root, or Helonias.

The Horse's Power of Smell.

The horse will leave musty hay untouched in his bin, however hungry. He will not drink of water objectionable to his questioning sniff or from a bucket which some odor makes offensive, however thirsty. His intelligent nostril will widen, quiver and query over the daintiest bit offered by the fairest of hands, with coaxings that would make a mortal shut his eyes and swallow a nauseous mouthful at a gulp. A mare is never satisfied by either sight or whinny that her colt is really her own until she has a certain nasal certificate to the fact. A blind horse, now living, will not allow the approach of any stranger without showing signs of anger not safely to be disregarded. The distinction is evidently made by his sense of smell and at a considerable distance. Blind horses, as a rule, will gallop wildly about a pasture without striking the surrounding fence. The sense of smell informs them of its proximity.—Horse and Stable.

Between Supper and Breakfast.

Many persons, says a well known doctor, though not actually sick, keep below par in strength and general tone, and he is of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness we so often meet. It is logical to believe that the supply of nourishment should be somewhat continuous, especially in those who are below par, if we would counteract their emaciation and lower degree of vitality, and as bodily exer-

Caught the General.

One of the regular army officers tells a story of how the old stringent army regulations once went against General Scott. One wet afternoon that soldier was caught in the rain in Washington. He was in full uniform and was well known, so, no cab being near, he borrowed an umbrella. Arriving at his hotel, an underofficer approached him and calmly remarked:

"General, you will consider yourself under arrest for eight days for carrying an umbrella while in full uniform."

The King's Cock Crower.

In the good old time there was an English court official known as the king's cock crower. It seems a strange office. Why did the king require a cock crower, and why could not the common barn door variety serve his majesty's purpose? The reason, as you shall see, was that the barn door variety cannot be depended upon for times and hours, and he has never been persuaded to observe Lent. Now, this was a pious custom and a religious duty. All through Lent the king's cock crower crowed instead of calling the hours of the night in the palace. He began on Ash Wednesday, when he entered the hall in which the king's supper was served, and then crowed the hour in the presence of the royal party. The meaning of the custom is obvious. It was only one of the many ways in which the history of the Christian religion was brought home to the minds of people before the reading of the gospel in the vernacular. The office was continued down to the year 1822.—London Queen.

Naturalized.

An Italian went to the civil service commissioners' rooms to be examined for a laborer's position. He answered most of the questions correctly. Finally they asked him if he had ever been naturalized. He seemed a bit puzzled, but at last his face lighted up. "Ah, I know whata you mean. Scratcha de arm. Yes, lasta week."

Then He Stole.

Prudent Swain—If I were to steal a kiss, would it scare you so that you would scream? Timid Maiden—I couldn't. Fright always makes me dumb.

Driven From Home.

"Did you hear that the daughter of that rich man in the next street has been driven from home?"

"No! When did it happen?"

"Just after she got into the carriage."

No Wonder.

Jack—Yes, poor John may have had his faults, but his heart was on the right side.

Wagge—Is it possible? No wonder he died.

Indigestion

[illegible] symptom of, and not [illegible] think of Dyspepsia, [illegible] as real diseases, yet they are [illegible] of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates-it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brantam Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took in $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

NUMBER ONE.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and to give the General Assembly power to establish a separate court in Philadelphia county, with criminal and miscellaneous jurisdiction.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That the following amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same are hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas, shall be vested in one court of common pleas in each of said counties, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of each of the said courts shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in each of said courts may be, by law, increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first Monday of January succeeding its adoption.

Section 2. That article five, section eight, be amended by making an addition thereto so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 8. The said courts in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny respectively shall, from time to time, in turn, detail one or more of their judges to hold the courts of oyer and terminer and the courts of quarter sessions of the peace of said counties, in such manner as may be directed by law: Provided, That in the county of Philadelphia the General Assembly shall have power to establish a separate court, consisting of not more than four judges, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases and in such other matters as may be provided by law.

NUMBER TWO.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, allowing counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts, or other municipal or incorporated districts, to increase their indebtedness.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That section eight, article nine, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, reading as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein; nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," be amended, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article of said Constitution, so that said section, when amended, shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed ten per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein; nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, in such manner as shall be provided by law.

NUMBER THREE.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and fourteen of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following are proposed as amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment One—To Article Four, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal," so as to read as follows:—

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal.

Amendment Two—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.

Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:—

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms," so as to read:—

The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer shall each be four years; and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections; but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine, shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the time of the election of constables, by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district," so as to read:—

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district.

Amendment Four—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

Section 5. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constitution, which reads as follows:—

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years, and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished.

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two.

Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—

The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three.

Section 7. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:—

All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen.

Section 8. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—

District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve, Section One.

Section 9. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:—

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—

All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen, Section Two.

Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—

County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen, Section Seven.

Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—

Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared, that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Seeing Ourselves.

"The man who can pick out the best picture of himself is a rare bird," said a photographer. "Even an author, who is reputedly a poor judge of his own work, exercises vast wisdom in selecting his best book compared with the person who tries to choose his best photograph. Every famous man or woman who has been photographed repeatedly has his favorite picture. Usually it is the worst in the collection. It shows him with an unnatural expression sitting or standing in an unnatural attitude.

"The inability to judge of his best picture must be due to the average man's ignorance as to how he really looks, or perhaps it can be partly attributed to a desire to look other than he does. A stout man will swear that the photograph most nearly like him is one that makes him look thin, a thin man the one that makes him look stout. The solemn man selects the jolliest picture, the jovial man the most cadaverous.

On Again, Off Again.

A young New York artist who is almost as noted for his convivial tendencies as he is for his genius was recently asked by a friend:

"What does your wife think of these spells? I should think she would not submit to them."

"When I have a spree," confessed the intemperate one frankly, "she is just as good to me as any one possibly could be. She takes care of me and nurses me back to decency with a kindness that is superhuman—it is angelic and beyond belief.

"But once I am sober again she begins to nag me to promise her and swear to her that I never, never, never again will drink a drop, and she keeps at me so determinedly and so persistently that—by Jove—she makes me so desperate that I have to go and fill up again so I can forget it."

Her Name.

One needs patience to succeed as a teacher of the young, as this brief dialogue in one of our elementary schools may show:

Scholar—I've left home now, ma'am. I'm living with my auntie.

Teacher—What's her name?

"She's called after me—Fanny."

"Yes, but what's her other name?"

"She has no other."

"But what does the woman next door call her?"

"She doesn't speak to the woman next door."

A Hard Job.

"Didn't you say six months ago that if Miss Tipkins wouldn't marry you you would throw yourself into the deepest part of the sea? Now, Miss Tipkins married some one else three months ago and yet you haven't"—

"Oh, it's easy to talk, but let me tell you it is not such an easy matter to find the deepest part of the sea."

Substitutes.

Doctor—Have you given him the champagne and oysters, as I ordered? Patient's Wife—Well, no, sir, I couldn't afford that, so I got him some ginger beer and whelks instead. Do it matter, sir?—London Telegraph.

American Success.

The reason of the enormous success of the Americans, the reason of their growing wealth and power on the continent of Europe, is their willingness to take risks. They are brave and are prepared to shoulder responsibility. When a merchant fails in business, banks are found to advance him money to put him on his feet again. Not so in England. A bankrupt is a pariah; the banks will not give him the least help. His failure creates a terrible fuss.—Frenchman in Pall Mall Gazette.

Wisdom From a Babe.

"What would you do, my boy," asked a professional vocalist proudly, "if you could sing like me?"

"Have some singing lessons!" replied the lad.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The honor we receive from those who stand in fear of us is not true honor.—Montaigne.

Explanations in Order.

A man whose wife was extremely jealous planned a pleasant surprise for her in the form of a trip to New York to see "The Merry Widow" and wrote a friend in the city to let him know the earliest date for which he could secure seats. The next day when he was away from home the following telegram was delivered there, addressed to him, but opened by his wife:

"Nothing doing with the widow until the 10th. Will that suit you?"

Explanations were demanded.

As to a Courtship.

"He's telling everybody that she is his first love."

"And she?"

"She is confiding to a select few that he is her last chance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Royal Month and the Royal Disease.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and probably to none more so than to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula—its bunches, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose radical and permanent cures of this one disease are enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probable not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved its merit in more homes than one, in arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative, consumption.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Buckwheat cakes are about due on the breakfast bill of fare.

—Fine as the weather is most of us would enjoy a day of steady rain.

Hunters would find it more profitable to bring home a bag of chestnuts instead of wasting time looking for game

—Mrs. Ben Gentzell was removed from the Bellefonte hospital to her home on Bishop street Monday, greatly improved.

—At the final meeting of the Centre Baptist association at Altoona on Thursday, Miss Ella Levy of Milesburg was elected treasurer.

—B. Frank Bowers, of Salona and Miss Annie E. Shilling of Beech Creek were married in Lock Haven Friday morning by Rev. G. W. McIlnay.

—The September bulletin of the dairy and food division indicates that violations of the pure milk laws are becoming fewer in number. Commissioner Foust reports that of 788 samples analyzed all were found pure.

—Farmers throughout the county are now busy picking their large crop of apples. By reason of the drouth many apples fell before picking time and these are being made into cider. Large piles of this fruit can now be seen in many orchards ready to be stored away for winter use.

—Judging by the large amount of mail that is now being handled between United States and England a large number of people are writing letters for the pleasure of having them carried so far for two cents. The postage matter has doubled since the cheap rate went into effect. People on both sides appreciate a bargain.

—The state automobile tags for 1909 will be white with black letters. Each year the color of the tags is changed in order that no cars may be operated under licenses that have expired. The new tags will be ready by December 15, and the applications for licenses will be filled in the order received. So far this year 24,000 automobile licenses have been issued and the number next year will undoubtedly be still greater, —Invitations have been issued by Dr. and Mrs. J. Jones Donaldson of Butler, for the marriage of their daughter, Winifred May to Montgomery Ward Fleming, the wedding to take place Saturday, October twenty-fourth in the evening, at the Clinton in Butler. The groom elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming and one of the instructors in the Bellefonte high school. Harold Lingle will act as one of the ushers.

—Unable to release his foot which was caught in a switch, Andrew Tomcho, aged 18, a brakeman employed on a narrow gauge line in the Homestead steel mills of the Carnegie company, was forced to lean over while the engine severed his foot at the ankle Tuesday morning. Tomcho ran forward to open a switch when his foot was caught in the frog. The engine and cars were going at a high rate of speed and the engineer was unable to stop.

—Constable W. L. Joyce, of Penfield, Clearfield county, presented a bill for $1,179 to the county commissioners last Thursday morning for services of men whom he had employed fighting forest fires in Huston township during the past months. The commissioners have already paid out about $1,500 and when the bills are all in it is thought the total cost for fire fighting this fall will amount to nearly $3,000. The state will imburse the county two-thirds of the amount expended.

—The freight traffic on the on the local divisions of the Pennsylvania Railroad has increased to an astonishing degree during the past week and all the engines and cars available are being pressed into service. A few months ago the Penny had about five thousand box cars stored on the different sidings in this section, at Williamsport and elsewhere, but not only all of these cars are in use, but all these box cars belonging to other roads that can be procured are doing duty. All this is good news to railroaders, for they are assured of regular work.

—Charles F. Barclay, of Sinnemahoning, Republican candidate for Congress, had a narrow escape with his life at Weedville on Monday. He was riding in his automobile near Weedville in company with another gentleman & chauffur when the car went over a three foot embankment and started down a steep hillside. The congressman was thrown out with the result that his left arm was injured, his head bruised and was given a shaking up that will take him some days to recover. The accident was due to the losing of a pin from the steering geer.

—Friday, October 23 is the fall arbor day.

—W. L. Steele has been ill at his home on South Spring street for the past few days.

—John W. Vogel's minstrels will appear at the Garman opera house October 21.

—Barber Frank Sasserman of this place expects soon to remove his barber shop to State College.

—James T. Owens, a prominent citizen of Tyrone, died Sunday at the Roaring Springs hospital of peritonitis, aged about 68 years.

—Mrs. Anna Grassmire was taken to Danville Friday morning where she was placed in the state institution for the mentally infirm.

—The concerts by the Coleville band in front of the Bush house Wednesday and Thursday evenings were highly entertaining and enlived the evenings for the visitors and others.

—The county commissioners met the Clinton county commissioners at Beech Creek Monday where the new concrete pier recently built under the inter-county bridge near that place was inspected.

—Wilson I. Fleming purchased the Quigley lot on East Linn street adjoining the Woodcock residence which is occupied by Elmer E. Davis. It is quite probable that Mr. Fleming will build a residence.

—D. I. Willard has opened a gentleman's furnishings store in the room on High street formerly occupied by James Harris. He will also carry a small stock of dry goods and receive orders for clothing.

—The county commissioners have received from Harrisburg a specimen ballot containing the national and state tickets which will be used at the coming election. There are seven candidates on the national ticket and when the county tickets are attached in will make quite a large sheet.

—While in town on Wednesday Miss Mary Ulrich, of Penn Hall was taken ill and on Thursday was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital. It was found that she had appendicitis and an operation was performed Thursday evening. The patient is getting along nicely since the operation.

—William Schooley, a well known resident and assistant postmaster of Montgomery, dropped dead Wednesday afternoon on the ferry boat crossing the river. The boat has just reached the opposite bank of the stream when the stricken man fell backward and died in a few minutes.

—Edward Brown has kindly donated the use of his store room on Bishop street for the Rumage Sale which will be given for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital. You will be called upon for contributions next Monday the 19th. Due notice will be given of the opening of the sale later.

—A conference of the senior gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. was held Friday evening and twenty of the members were present. After discussing the plans for the winter season refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Smith of Warren made an address to the boys and he was followed by others.

—There are yet some doubt as to the championship in the Centre and Clinton league. According to the games played Snow Shoe is a few points in the league but Howard had one game to play with Snow Shoe and one game Howard played with Orvis was played under protest. A meeting will be held soon to settle all the difficulties and the rightful, credits given It is hoped that the matter may be adjusted satisfactorily to all.

—It is rarely that we get such good clean comedy as that presented in "A Good Fellow" at the opera house Thursday evening. The house was almost filled and the show elicted a continuous round of laughter from beginning to end. Miss Williams, as Dolly Sevier, is a very clever actress and is one of the few girls who can play the boy in true boy style, She was very ably supported throughout the evening, during which there was not a dull moment.

—A serious runaway accident was narrowly averted on Linn street Wednesday and but for the timely arrival of assistance there is no telling what might have happened. A woman from Milesburg, accompanied by a young lady and a baby were driving a horse and buggy into town and in some manner the harness broke. The horse was a vicious one and started to run away and the excited women pulled it toward the sidewalk at the residence of Mr. Cook when a gentleman nearby caught it in time to prevent serious injuries to the occupants of the buggy.

—An amusing feature at the fair on Thursday and Friday was that of a young couple who each day occupied the same place to watch the races. They were evidently very much in love and were not afraid to let it be known. From the time they took their post until the races were over they carried on their love making much to the amusement of those in the grandstand, being stationed near the judges' stand. So earnest were the young man's affections that the starter was impelled to call the attention of the people to the sight through the megaphone.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Centre County Medical society was held in the court house on Tuesday.

—While cleaning house you may run across many articles of no use to the family but still of some value. Save them for the rummage sale.

—Don't complain about the weather man because it is a little cool. Just think how obliging he was during fair week by holding off the rain until Saturday night.

—Because of the low stage of water in the Pottsville reservoirs thousands of small fish were sucked into the mains and clogged the service pipes, keeping the plumbers quite busy.

—The comptroller of currency has issued a notice permitting the First National Bank of Howard to open for business. The new building is not quite ready yet for the opening of the bank.

—Rally Day services will be held in St. John's Reformed church and Sunday School next Sunday. At 9 45 special services will be held in the Sunday school with a few brief addresses by visiting brethren. It is hoped to have Rev. Thos. L. Bickel, a former pastor present at these services.

—The next Academy foot ball game will be at Bellefonte on Saturday the 17th at 3 o'clock, when they will play the Williamsport high school. The Williamsport team has proven themselves the better of Lock Haven and the Academy boys will put forth their best efforts to win from the Lumber city eleven.

—L. L. Miller, of Philipsburg, who the Journal says knows something about farming, is the champion potatoe raiser of this section. He has this year raised one thousand bushels from four acres of land, and they are all of a superior quality. This is 250 bushels to the acre and it is doubtful if the crop can be beaten anywhere in the state.

—Harold Kirk has purchased himself a hand power vacuum cleaner and is assiting the busy housewives of Bellefonte to do their house cleaning without removing their carpets from the floor. The suction method of cleaning carpets is one of the latest and best and no doubt Harold will be kept quite busy during the house cleaning season.

—David Hendricks a clay miner employed at the Eagle Brick works near Mill Hall was caught under a fall of clay and rocks Saturday forenoon and so badly crushed that he died soon after being removed from underneath the fall. Deceased was aged about 65 and resided with his family near the brick works. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

—Chambersburg is having and epidemic of measles of a malignant nature and about 60 houses are under quarantine. Citizens have been disregardful of the quarantine measures, allowing their children to go to school and thus the disease has been spread. The police have been ordered to arrest any children whom they find on the streets from quarantined houses.

—This section was visited by a good soaking rain Saturday evening which will doubtless do much good. The ground had become almost as dry as it was before the rain two weeks ago and many industries that had been closed down on account of low water resumed for a few days only. The copious showers which fell Saturday evening will replenish the streams to some extent.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad company has provided its officers with a new system of tariff references. By the new method the agent can in a few moments give to his inquirirers the tariff on any road in the United States. The system embraces also the passenger schedule of tariff on all roads and quite a boon to the ticket agents of the company, allowing them to give information to passengers in a very short order.

—The rate of distribution of the state appropriations for township and borough high schools, this year will be 56¼ for boroughs and 90 per cent. for townships. The warrants will be issued as soon as the classification is completed. Some of the high schools were under the impression that they would not receive the high school appropriations inasmuch as it was not received with the regular appropriation, —While excavating for the foundation and drains of the new house to be erected by Charles W. Cook at Beech Creek last week the workmen uncovered some of the vats which were used at the time the late Asher Packer, one of the founders of the borough, had a tannery on that piece of ground. A small piece of leather was also found at the bottom of one vat and it was perfectly preserved and had lost none of its strength. The tannery was abandoned about 40 years ago.

—Captain and Mrs. Heather of the Salvation Army will say farewells at the Army room Sunday evening. All their friends are cordially invited to attend the services. Bellefonte people who have learned to know Captain and Mrs. Heather will be sorry to learn of their departure from this place. They have done a good work while they have been in our midst. It is not definitely known yet where they will go but their many friends wish them God speed in their new field of work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin were in Pittsburg the forepart of this week and were guests at a large insurance banquet given there.

Dr. J. Allison Platts and Wm. P. Homes are commissioners to the Synod of Pennsylvania which meets in the city of Beaver Thursday.

Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt, D. D., and family returned Tuesday evening from Atlantic City where they spent two weeks in rest and recuperation.

Charles H. Keister, formerly of Clintondale, but now of Johnsonburg, is visiting friends at his former home and in Howard and Bellefonte.

Harry Weaver, operator at the MX tower returned Friday from Curweneville where he was working to relieve an operator who was on a ten day's wedding tour.

D. F. Fortney was in Philipsburg over Sunday and in the evening delivered an address on local option in the Methodist church. He was heard by a large audience.

Miss Lucy Steinkechner and Mis Eva Mosebarger returned to their homes in Drifting Monday after a pleasant visit with Miss Mary Mosebarger in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns and child of Johnstown, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Burns' mother and other relatives in this place. Mrs. Burns was formerly Miss Elizabeth Taylor.

D. A. Irvin, formerly of Jacksonville but now located at Ebensburg was a visitor in town last week. Al. is a great lover of horses and could not remain away from the Centre County fair.

Joseph Stiver of Stormstown, was a visitor in town on Friday and of course took in the Centre County fair. Mr. Stiver says that everything political up that way is in the Republican line and that they are confident of Republican success at the coming election.

Miss Jennie Kerstetter and Miss Prudence Stevenson of Millheim, and Mr, and Mrs. Warren Corman of Coburn, were in Bellefonte last week attending the fair and were entertained at the home of Attorney S. D. Gettig. They returned home Saturday.

G. W. Hooven of New Bethlehem, who was in Bellefonte some time ago in the interests of the McIntosh slag brick machine, is here at present and it quite probable he will close his negotiations with the promoters of the slag brick industry in this place.

Alvin H. Knecht, of Wamego, Kas. is visiting at toe home of George D. Hess in Beech Creek. Mr. Knecht went west thirty years ago and purchased a farm, having since added two others to his holdings and is now living a retired life It is five years since his last visit to the east.

E. H. Harder of Williamsport, has been sent to Bellefonte by the Singer Sewing Machine Company to succeed Thomas Wagner as agent and manager of their store. Mr. Harder assumed charge of his duties on Tuesday and expects to move his family here in a few days. He is a very pleasant young man and will doubtless carry on the company's business with success.

Charles Glenn, the veteran Bellefonte photographer, is one of the Republican's regular and long time readers and one who never owes the printer. He was a pleasant caller early this morning to have us advance the date on his paper. Recently Mr. Glenn brought us a number of papers issued during various presidential campaigns to give the young editor an idea of the difference between campaigning at that time and the present. The copies of these old papers, some of which were printed before the writer's day, were quite interesting.

Rev. J. F. Hower and wife and Rev. R. Crittenden and wife left Wednesday for Shomokin where they will attend the annual state Sabbath school convention.

Captain C. F. Barclay, of Sinnemahoning, Republican candidate for congressman from the twenty-first district was a visitor in Bellefonte Tuesday and Wednesday.

John H. Auman.

On Sunday morning at 2 o'clock the death angel summoned to the world beyond John H. Auman one of the oldest citizens of Millheim.

Mr. Auman had been sick for a long time, but was able to be up and about until two weeks ago when he took to his bed from which he never arose.

He was born in Miles township and was a son of Peter and Julia Auman, and the only surviving member of that family is Jonathan Auman, of Wolfs Store.

He was married to Miss Amelia Tobias and to that union four children were born. One of them, Rev. William T. Auman died several years ago. He leaves to survive a widow and the following children: L. P. Auman, Mrs. Josephine Hardenbergh and N. A. Auman, all of Millheim. His age was 76 years, 2 months and 22 days.

Mr. Auman was a member of the Reformed church all his life, was well-known in the community in which he lived and was an honest, upright citizen. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. D. Donat and interment was made in Fairview cemetery.

Suicide at Penfield.

Saturday's DuBois Courier says: Penfield had another suicide yesterday. Grant Williams, who lives with his family on the Corle property, blew his brains out with a shotgun about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Williams was about forty years old and leaves a wife and six children. He came from Centre county a number of years ago.

He had made no threats of doing violence to himself, and in the absence of any note of explanation there is absolutely no cause known for the suicide. There was no domestic difficulty, and he was not known to be given to brooding over his affairs, although he was not in the prosperous class. His circumstances were not, however, such as would induce despondency in a man of ordinary ambitions in life.

Williams was a man who hunted some and always kept a gun handy, and there was nothing thought of it whenever he took it out, especially during the hunting season.

A Romantic Marriage

Lizzie Conchenour and William Hurst, each 18 years of age, were married at Irwin Saturday after a string of romances seldom found outside of a novel. The former lived in Irwin and the latter in Shafton. They had been keeping company for some time. The boy's parents objected to the girl and when he told them that he was going to marry the girl he was kept at home under guard. One evening he secured a gun and shot himself in the head.

He was taken to the Greensburg hospital in a dangerous condition, but recovering at once sought his sweetheart and last Thursday they went to Youngstown, O. The clerk of the probate office had been informed of their coming and was told they were not of age. With just enough money to buy tickets to Irwin they returned in a few hours. Friends interested themselves, a license was secured and they were married at Greensburg Saturday.

For Borough Power Plant.

The agitation relative to new lighting facilities for Bellefonte has brought out a plan which appears to be the most feasible of any yet proposed, and which is likely to be adopted by council.

An offer has been made by a responsible party to furnish sufficient water power, together with a complete electrical plant, to run the borough water works and to light the streets, at an annual rental less than the present borough expenditures for these purposes, such rent to be applied yearly toward the purchase of the water power and plant, so that the entire system will at some time in the future belong to the borough, at even less cost than we are now appropriating each year. Anything reasonable that will save money is what the taxpayers are looking for.

Mrs. Johanna H Quinn.

Mrs. Johanna H. Quinn died at 7:06 o'clock Monday evening of hypostatic congestion of the lungs, at the residence of C. E. Thompson, 316 Howard avenue, Altoona, after an illness of over a year.

Mrs. Quinn was born in Bellefonte, December 8, 1842, her maiden name being Johanna Beale, but she had resided in Altoona since early childhood. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. M. F. Weiss; one half-brother, Henry Renner, and several nephews, all of Altoona. She was a member of the Walnut Avenue Methodist church and of Endora lodge No. 87, Daughters of Rebecca.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Thompson home. Interment was made at the Fairview cemetery in Altoona.

WRECK ON THE L. & T.

North Bound Passenger Train Ran Into an Open Switch at Centre Hall

Several of the trainmen were injured and the passengers given a severe shaken up and badly scared in a collision at Centre Hall Tuesday afternoon, caused by the train running into an open switch. The train which arrives here at 4:20 was nearing the Centre Hall station and was running at a pretty good speed at the time when suddenly it ran on to the side track and crashed into four box cars which were standing on the siding. How the switch was left open is a mystery to the trainmen, as a portion of the train that did the last shifting had been left on the far side of the switch while the shifting was being done, and the passenger train leaving here at 1:50 also passed over that point.

The train was in charge of Conductor U. H. Reamer, of this place. Mr. Reamer was in the act of opening the door of one of the passenger coaches to call out the Centre Hall station when the collision occurred, the impact throwing his head against the plate glass in the door and breaking it. Mr. Reamer's face was badly cut by the broken glass. When Engineer Theodore Cherry saw that they had run into the open switch he endeavored to check the speed of the train as much as possible and called for his fireman Jesse Underwood to jump. In order to escape the danger of the tender and engine coming together when the collision came Engineer Cherry started back over the tender but the force of the collision threw him against the boiler, injuring his arm. Fireman Underwood sprained his ankle in jumping. Several of the passengers were slightly injured. Mail Agent Jones was thrown against a post in the mail car and had a gash cut over his eye. Baggage Master John Fisher was thrown to the floor of his car and injured internally by a trunk falling upon him.

The force of the collision drove the cars ahead for quite a distance on the siding but fortunately no one was in the way. The impact of the collision was so great that the number on the plate on the head of the engine was plainly imprinted upon the boards of the box car. The engine was so badly damaged that it could not be used and another had to be sent for to bring the train to Bellefonte. The train arrived here about seven o'clock.

Lucas—Schenck.

A wedding of surprise to many took place at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. William I. Harvey, on Fairview street, Lock Haven, Thursday noon when Miss Nannie Miles Lucas and A. A. Schenck, both of Howard, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Patterson, of Blanchard, pastor of the Christian church, in the library of the Harvey home which was prettily decorated for the occasion. Dinner was served by caterer Achenback.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. H. T. Lucas, of Howard, and is very popular in social circles. She is a member of the Christian church and actively engaged in church work. Mr. Schenck is one of Howard's leading business men and is proprietor of the large hardware and plumbing establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Schenck left on the afternoon Buffalo train for an extended trip and will be at home to their friends after the first of November at Howard.

Homan—Meyers.

On Tuesday evening at five o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Homan in State College, their daughter Miss Alice was united in marriage to Charles H. Meyers of Fairbrook. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bergstresser and was witnessed only by the immediate families of the contracting parties. John Homan, a brother of the bride, acted as best man and Miss Bertha Meyers, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor. They left Bellefonte on the evening train for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. They will return to State College on Saturday and on that evening a reception will be given in their honor at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Meyers is a very enterprising and successful young farmer, being also engaged in threshing and hay baling. The bride is one of State College's most accomplished young ladies and willmak her husband a very excellent helpmeet through life.

Tomato Growing.

The canning factory at Howard has created such a demand for tomatoes that some of the farmers have found it quite profitable to raise them in large quantities. So large was the yield of several growers that they speak of their crop in tons and not baskets. The largest production was that of S. I Reber who resides in the borough. From a plot of three-quarters of an acre he raised and sold to the canning factory 5 tons and 528 pounds of nice large plump tomatoes. Henry Thompson who lives about four miles from town brought to the factory 4 tons and 440 pounds. They receive a fair price for the tomatoes at the factory which makes it quite profitable for the farmers.
